				directly as a Trader of Fly Ash/Bottom Ash. The only possible option for domestic companies were to act as local agents of Indian Fly ash traders based in Kolkata. Despite no existence of Domestic Ash Traders in Bangladesh, the amendment of REOI has stipulated enlistment of Trader Category for domestic companies only who has to submit last 3 years fly ash procurement contract as an evidence of proven track record. Unfortunately, this clause will create obstacles for domestic traders like us who have strong principals in India & through whom we have been catering the Bangladesh fly ash market for more than 10 years. Sir, if the Authority desires to give an equal chance for selection of an Applicant in the Trader Category, there is no other alternative but to allow the domestic companies to use the credentials & experience certificates of their foreign principals to fulfill BIFPCL authorities' experience & technical criteria. BIFPCL authority might use the authorization certificate from the relevant principal as an additional requirement of document. .....
